

Peace Education Scotland Privacy Policy

Last updated May 2018

Peace Education Scotland is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. We try to limit the information we gather from our supporters. The data collected will be adequately protected in compliance with new General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

What we collect

We may collect the following information:

Educators

- name, school contact details, email addresses and subject of interest;

Students

- name, postcode and email address

Other supporters or event participants

- name, postcode and email address and other relevant information

We collect information about you when you sign up one of our lists, a supporter, request our services or place an order for our products or sign up to volunteer with us.

What we do with the information we gather

The information is used to inform supporters of our new resources, educational materials and services.

Who we share the data with

We will not sell, distribute or lease your personal information to third parties or other groups.

Security

In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure, we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect. All online payment transactions are encrypted.

Requests for information

You may request details of personal information which we hold about you by writing or emailing Peace Education Scotland.

Correcting information

If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please write to or email us as soon as possible, at the address below. We will promptly correct any information found to be incorrect.

Removing information

If you wish to no longer receive communications by a particular means, eg post or if you wish us to remove all information that we hold on you, please contact us. To stop receiving our emails, please click the unsubscribe button at the bottom of each email.
